Thanks! user1 Hi! user1 Hi! user2 I think Republicans are more hypocritical because they are very much the "do as I say not as I do" party. Just one example is how they often preach about family values (aka homophobia) but you hear about Republican male senators having same-sex affairs. user2 Oh, absolutely. I have been absolutely roasting Madison Cawthorne lately for being Mr. "Law and Order" and "family values" but then he's hanging out in lingerie, on video humping his cousin, carrying loaded guns in airports, driving without licenses, etc. user1 And the party just does not care once bit user1 They also still talk about all of the "illegal" things that Hilary Clinton did but refuse to talk about all of the horrific things that Trump did while in office. user2 And then Matt Gaetz is literally doing MDMA with teenagers user1 Yes, that guy is EXTREMELY hypocritical. user2 100 percent, in-office, out of office, Trump is just literally a criminal and they love it user1 But if he was a Democrat they wouldn't stop talking about it. user2 They would want him arrested. user2 There's not any ideological consistency at all, it's just whatever gets them the angriest user1 And they want to stand on their soapbox as the moral party of values and point their fingers at anyone who is a Democrat without looking in the mirror. user2 Like they're super mad about inflation now but last year they were angry that the Fed might raise rates to stop inflation Them wanting to overturn Roe v Wade - how many abortions has Trump paid for? Or other Republican politicians? user2 They'll certainly just get abortions in other states user1 Rush Limbaugh had three wives and no kids and then pretended like he didn't know how birth control worked user1 Yes and they're saying it's Biden's fault for high gas prices when gas prices are astronomical all around the world. I wasn't aware Biden was president of the world. user2 nor is he supposed to refine gas himself user1 actually the gas price thing is hilarious to me because gas hits $4 every summer, but republicans only notice when democrats are in office user1 No president has ever had anything to do with gas prices, but if a Democrat is in office then Republicans are constantly preaching about how Democrats don't care about Americans... user2 Yes! user2 also there's the exact same amount of drilling now as there was when trump was in office, the oil rigs don't just disappear. we have supply and demand issues that can't be fixed overnight user1 even if Biden said "damn, let's start drilling more" it takes years to set up an oil righ user1 And everyone is traveling now so of course gas is going to be really high. user2 Before now, the all-time high of gas prices was actually in 2008 under Bush user1 and during that time for some reason they still tried to blame Democrats user1 The beginning of the recession. user2 exactly yeah user1 Well, people blamed Obama for the recession... so the moral of the story: Republicans are ignorant. user2 I don't know if they're even ignorant, I think they're willfully malicious on the higher levels user1 A lot of them are stupid. Ted Cruz saying that the way to solve school shootings is to have one door in every school. user2 I'd love to see what fire marshalls think about that user1 but yeah let's see if he also wants to fund a bill to take doors off of every school in america user1 Well, at least people dying from a fire isn't going to make anyone talk about gun control, right? .... user2