Hello user2

> I personally think that republicans are more hypocritical compared to democrats user1

> One example is the abstract idea of the sanctity of life. Abortion is a

Agreed. Republicans say one thing and do another far more often than Democrats. user2 critical issue for republicans generally and they typically favor abortion prohibition. Yet, they seem to favor the death penalty and vote to limit programs that support the child after its born user1

That's the Republican mantra: The right to life begins at conception --and ends at birth. user2

> another example where republicans will still ardently support gun rights despite the death and destruction it has caused in our schools user1 Yes, exactly Butch.

Additionally, the horrific school shooting this week in Texas is

It's a sticking point with them.

user1

screw the Democrats than do the right thing. user2

They'd rather all die and be sure to greatest political ally since they ask of you nothing and you have no promises that you are accountable for with them. user1 It is only after the children are born that they demand programs,

I read this statement a few weeks that speaks to that. Someone has observed that the unborn are the attention, and support yet this is where it tends to end with Republicans

user1

Well, since they go back on their word, the unborn won't be in a position to complain about it probably even after they're born. user2

Exactly.

user1

Perhaps another point is concept of liberty and personal responsibility. Republicans always champion this yet are ardently

The right to life is only important to Republicans as far as they can push their agendas.

user2

user1

Which is hypocritical of them, considering that their ancestors were immigrants (unless Native American). user2

These immigrants literally want to come here to better themselves,

Yes, exactly. They say "my opposed to immigrants coming

here to pursue this

user1

this country, and "pull themselves up by their bootstraps" yet Republican's use their plight as a source of fear to rile up their political base.

the pay they get.

user2 ancestors came here legally". How exactly? On an undocumented boat at Ellis Island? user1 The base should do the restaurant jobs, migrant farming, and other jobs that only the illegal immigrants are willing to do for

> Sorry, I have been rambling. Do you have other examples you would like to share? user1

Constitution. They want to defend the Second Amendment and keep their guns, but when somebody is accused of a crime, they want to ignore the Sixth Amendment and Eighth Amendments to deny a speedy trial and cruel and unusual punishment.

The Republican position on the

'Get a rope" and "bullet in the back of the head upon conviction"

user2

user2