user1: I think Republicans are much more hypocritical than Demorats user2: I find it hard to say one is more hypocritical than the other.

user1: I think it's a bit easier to say that Republicans are because of this example: Let's take abortion.

user2: Both parties tend to think things that their party does are good and anything the other party does is bad user1: If we take a look at the COVID Pandemic, a lot of Red States, and Republicans were very much opposed to wearing the mask as opposed to Democrats user1: They were saying that they don't have to wear a mask because it's their body and they can do whatever they see is fit.

user1: They say they can do whatever with their bodies. yet disallow women from making the same choice.

user2: I don't think that's hypocricy to not wear a mask. Republicans are pretty genuine about not liking when the government tells them what to do. Even if it might save their life.

user1: So Republicans can not like when they are told to do something? And yet force a woman to do something they are told?

user1: That, in and of itself is hypocrisy, is it not?
